

Famous immigrants

THEY WEREN'T AMERICANS BUT THEY MADE IT IN HOLLYWOOD!!!

Charlie Chaplin

He was born in London, on April 16, 1889. He didn't have a happy childhood. His father died when he was young and his mother was ill. Later, he lived in the USA and he had a better life. First, he was an actor, then he became a film director. His silent movies were very famous. He had many children and grandchildren because he married four times. He died in 1977.

Rihanna

She was born on February 20, 1988, in Barbados. Her father is Barbadian with Irish ancestry. At 16, she couldn't live with her family because life was difficult, so she left home. After she moved to the USA her life was easier and more comfortable. She became a singer and she made her first album in 2005.

Charlize Theron

She was born in South Africa on August 7, 1975. She had a difficult family life in South Africa. She was happier when she began modelling at 16. She wanted to be a dancer, but in 1994 she started her career as an actress in the USA. She became an American citizen in 2008.

Arnold Schwarzenegger

He was born on July 30, 1947 and grew up in Austria. He was crazy about bodybuilding. In 1968, when he moved to the USA, he had little money and he didn't speak good English, but he managed to make it in Hollywood and finally became a great actor. He became an American citizen in 1983 and later was the governor of California, from 2003 to 2011.

